REVENUE NOTIFICATION.

NOTIFICATION.

The following report on the working of the Madras Proprietary Estates Village Service Act (II of 1894) and the Hereditary Village Officers Act (III of 1895) during the official year 1914-15, with the appended statements, is published for general information.

2. Statement I (Appointments made under sections 6, 10 and 11 of Act III of 1895).—Out of 3,315 appointments falling under sections 10 and 11 of the Act, 611 appointments were given to strangers, owing apparently to the absence of competent men with hereditary claims. The corresponding figures for 1913-14 were 2,755 and 415.

3. Statement III (Suits filed under section 13 of Act III of 1895) and Statement V (Appeals to the Collector against departmental orders of appointment and against suit decrees).—The decrease in pendency of suits and appeals at the close of the year, in spite of an increase in the number for disposal, is satisfactory.

4. Statement VII (Appeals to the Board against orders of appointments and against suit decrees).—Nine out of 132 appeals were pending at the close of the year. In the majority of cases, the decisions of District officers were confirmed.

5. Statement VIII (Proprietary estates into which Act II of 1894 has been introduced and in which establishments have been raised).—This statement shows the progress made in the creation of establishments in proprietary estates. The total number of estates in which revision was sanctioned up to the end of 1914-15 was 6,573 against 5,997 in 1913-14.

6. Statement XI (Penetration of proprietary).—No proprietary were dealt with during the year under section 31 of Act II of 1894.

7. The other statements call for no remarks.

8. References to the Board under section 13 of Act III of 1895.—One reference to the Board under this section which was pending at the beginning of the year was disposed of.

9. General remarks.—Acts II of 1894 and III of 1895 worked satisfactorily during the year.

Small and grocers' shops will be sold for all Districts. Particulars regarding them will be found in clause XVI below. A separate notification will be issued regarding each foreign liquor house.

III. A deposit must be made by each bidder previous to bidding and will be received by the selling officer on the day of sale. A deposit of Rs. 50 will ordinarily be required from any person wishing to bid for any important shop or any large number of shops. This will be reduced to Rs. 25 in the case of bidders for not more than two or three shops of an aggregate monthly value of Rs. 50 or less and to Rs. 5 in the case of bidders for single small shops. In the Kanyakumari District, the above conditions of the sale may, where he finds it necessary, require a deposit of Rs. 10 only from bidders for small shops. In the South Canara District, the selling officers may at their discretion reduce the deposit to Rs. 2 for shops whose average monthly rental does not exceed Rs. 2.

IV. The shops will be put up to auction in the order in which they are notified, unless the selling officer sees reason to change that order. Upon prices will be fixed at the discretion of the Collectors. The reserve price placed by Government on the shops will not be published, but the average of the previous five years' rentals will be notified by the Collectors, whenever possible, for the information of bidders.

V. No person will be allowed to bid for another unless he holds a power-of-attorney from him.

VI. The officer conducting the sale may, at his discretion, refuse to accept the bid of any person on the ground that he has been convicted by a Criminal Court or has previously been guilty of such a breach of the conditions of a license or of a contract under the opium laws as to render him ineligible as a holder of a licence or on the ground that he is insolvent or to prevent accommodation to the detriment of Government interests or for any other valid reason. He may also refuse any bid which he may consider to be purely speculative, when procuring his reasons for doing so. Village officers will not be allowed to bid for, or to have any deposit returned in shops for the sale of merchandise.

VII. The shops will be knocked down to the highest bidder, but the sale will be subject to formal confirmation of the Collector, who shall have liberty to accept or reject any bid at his discretion. Any formal restriction will be tantamount to an acceptance of the bid, unless reversed by the Board of Directors for special reasons, and will be necessary when the sale is held by the Collector himself or by any other appointed by him.

VIII. In case of dispute the village officer's decision shall be final. If for any reason the highest bid is rejected, the next highest shall be taken, or the shop may be at his discretion.

IX. At the close of each day's sale, the deposits made by the unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them. At the auction proceeds, each person whose bid is accepted shall at once, if so required by the selling officer, in accordance with the clause of the day's sale, make a further deposit of half a month's rent (in addition to the deposit made under clause III) for each shop unless the initial deposit equals or exceeds two months' rent. Should he fail to do so, the deposit made by him under clause III will be forfeited and the shop will be put up again immediately by the selling officer on the above conditions or otherwise disposed of by the Collector and the bidder will be debared from bidding again for the same or for any other shop.

X. Persons to whom shops have been knocked down and who have made deposits as prescribed in clauses III and IX shall also deposit such further sum as with the former deposits will make up two months' rent (to be paid within ten days from the date of communication of the Collector's acceptance of the bid) and shall, without unnecessary delay, execute the necessary engagements and take out licences on the conditions hereinafter set forth. In the case of the purchaser's death after giving the acceptance, it will be binding on his heirs and assigns. Should the rental deposit exceed two months' rent, the same will be refunded unless the purchaser is required to deposit twice that sum under clause XI, viz:

If an enquiry subsequent to sale, the purchaser shall be found to be of doubtful solvency, he may be required either to deposit two months' rental in addition to the sum prescribed in clause X, or, or to get a surety or sureties to guarantee monthly instalment for the due payment of all moneys that may become due by him under the terms of the contract. The bond shall be accepted (article 51, schedule I, Act II of 1857) and registered at the instance of the purchaser if the same amount exceeds Rs. 1,000.

XII. On the failure of any person to make deposit under clause X or to comply with the requisites under clause XI, his right to execute engagements and take out licences as aforesaid, the deposits already made may be forfeited and the shop may be sold under the orders of the District Officer on the date notified by the Collector at a time as he may direct by the instructions.

XIII. No sales effected under clause XII will be at the risk of the defaulting bidder, who will forfeit all paid, and, in the event of a loss, will be required to make good the deficiency between the total amount payable for the whole period under the terms of the original sale and the total amount payable by the successful bidder at the period. In the latter case the forfeited deposits will be deducted from the loss arising from the sale, and the remainder, if any, will be recoverable from the defaulter in the same manner as if it were an amount of loan advanced. Should, however, the forfeited deposits be greater than the loss by sale, the whole of such deposits will be credited to Government. The defaulting bidder will be similarly liable if the privilege is disposed of otherwise than by resale and such disposal results in loss to Government as compared with original sale.

XIV. The purchaser of the privilege is liable to the penalties prescribed for breaches of the conditions set forth below, though a formal licence may not have been issued to him.

WATER AND SNOW.—The following is a summary of the meteorological conditions at Madras during 1915:—

January.—Except in January, March, July and December when there was no snow, previous was below normal throughout the year; the greatest snow was 0.053 inch in March and the greatest deficit was 0.073 inch in November. The highest snow recorded was 10-100 inches on January 23 and the lowest 20-400 inches on May 3.

Temperature.—The mean temperature of the air was above normal throughout the year. The maximum temperature in shade was normal in fact, below normal in January, July and September and above in the other months. The minimum in the shade and solar heat in shade were above normal throughout the year. The highest shade temperature recorded was 107°5 F. on May 12, 24, 22 and 21 and the lowest 81°5 F. on 23 October 5. The highest sun maximum was 161°7 F. on August 22 and the lowest on glass was 50°5 F. on December 6.

Humidity.—The percentage of humidity was normal in October, below normal in May and November and above in the remaining months.

Wind.—The wind velocity was in deficit in all other months except in January when it was above normal. This is largely due to change of exposure as explained in previous reports. The highest velocity was 314 miles on November 21. The wind direction was normal or nearly normal in all months except in June, September, October and November, the most normal in direction being 8 points south in October owing to the late arrival of the north-east monsoon.

Cloud.—The percentage of cloud was normal in November, above normal in January and February and below in the remaining months.

Rainfall.—Except in January, February and November when there was deficit, the percentage of bright sunshine was in excess over the normal throughout the year. The total number of hours of sunshine during the year was 5,511.3.

The greatest excess was 8.72 inches in January and the greatest deficit 4.36 inches in October. The total fall for the year was 55.51 inches in 12 days against an average of 2.46 inches. The most notable fall for the year was 11.51 inches on 12 days against an average of 2.46 inches. The most notable rainfall was 8.48 inches in January. One of the two 1-11 during the 14th and 15th of the month and was due to a dry season which formed at the southwest of the Bay during the 13th and 14th. This fall of 8.41 inches is the highest ever recorded in January at Madras since 1913. The maximum rainfall from October 14 to the end of the year was 34.66 inches against an average of 28.46 inches.
